STRIKE SPREADS; LEADERS DEFEAT ARREST ORDER

PHILADELPHIA, March 7.—It was announced to-day that Mayor Reahman has decided on the arrest immediately of the labor leaders directing the general strike. This includes the Committee of Ten, with C. O. Pratt, the carmen's organizer, and John J. Murphy, president of the Central Labor Union. The charge alleged is conspiracy.

E. E. Greenwald, president of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor, to-day declared that a general sympathetic strike, tying up the entire State, will be declared at the biennial meeting of the Federation at Newcastle-to-morrow.

FEDERAL TROOPS READY TO QUEL THE RIOTERS.

Defying the orders of the police, 5,000 striking mill hands today met at Forty-third street and Lancaster avenue at noon and decided to form all the strikers of the northwest sections into a body and march to the Labor temple at Sixth and Brown streets.

Federal troops at Fort Mifflin, Pa., and elsewhere's landed, N. Y., are ready to start for Philadelphia at a moment's notice to quell rioting and protect government property. This is the critical day of the general strike. Labor leaders declared today that 115,000 workers had gone out and that the ranks were increasing hourly.

It was declared that the municipal authorities would present to the Grand Jury at nine evidence purporting to show that the labor leaders had caused a general strike to merchants and inflicted great suffering on the public. The object of this would be to indict the strikers as conspirators, which under the common law is an attempt to obtain, or the attainment, by legal methods, of an unlawful object.

Other cities are menaced by the general strike. Canton and Newark, N. J., face the plight of Philadelphia, the labor leaders there being ready to take similar action.

On this, the third day of the general strike, the labor leaders, defying the authorities, planned a public meeting following the 100 of yesterday and began the formation of a compact labor party throughout the city. The workers demanded the impeachment of Mayor Reahman.

With few exceptions, only those women, who with a babe in her arms last night's disorder, the situation was made more critical today by the movement.

There can be no question of the quality of a newspaper's circulation that can sell automobiles. Year by year the American's automobile advertising columns have grown steadily until as an automobile medium the American is right at the top. Again and again the American has demonstrated its ability to sell the highest priced as well as the popular priced cars, and the amount of business carried is convincing proof of this fact.

WOMEN SELL UP WITHOUT GLASSES

Remarkable Scene as William C. Russell and Man Who Claims to Be Brother Are Examined by Judge McIntire.

One of the most unique tests of relationship ever seen in a court room was made to-day when William C. Russell and the man who claims he is Daniel Blake Russell, the brother, stood side by side in front of Judge Linton, removed their glasses and allowed the Judge to carefully compare their eyes.

Judge Linton gazed earnestly and critically into the eyes of the brother who declares that the claimant is an impostor and then he looked gravely into those of the man who swears he is entitled to half of the Russell estate. Then the two estranged men—who may be brothers—walked to their different seats.

FISH RECORD OF THE YEAR IS SMASHED

Fishermen today brought into the wharf the record-breaking amount of 1,385,900 pounds of fish. This breaks records for the present year and about equals some of the top notch records of recent years.

The wharf is completely congested. Vessels are unloaded over the decks of other vessels. A number of fishermen anchored out in the harbor today and others docked in East Boston, unable to get into "the wharf." The fishermen and dealers point out this shows that the State should allow them to change the fish market to South Boston and give up the long outflow "the wharf property."

Prices dropped to just half what they have been. Cod today brought only from $2.25 to $2.25 a hundred pounds and had dock brought only from $2 to $3.

SHARP FIGHT IN ELECTIONS ON THE TOWNS

One hundred and thirty of the 254 towns in Massachusetts are today holding their annual town meetings, and a large majority of instances the elections are marked by interesting contests for the various offices and committees over the issue of taxes.

In Framingham interest centers over the triangular fight for town treasurer, for a successor to John H. Lombard, whose tenure of over a quarter of a million dollars recently started the entire state. The candidates for treasurer are Thomas H. Hastings, Republican, Howard F. Merriam, nomination papers, and Joseph H. Mundy, Democrat.

The town is also witnessing a pretty all-around fight for the three selectmen. Herbert W. Bacon, Democratic, is running on independent nomination papers, supported by William H. Hastings, Republican, and William H. Hastings, Republican, and William H. Hastings, Republican. For selectman, Frank H. Hastings is opposed by the Democratic nominee, Philip W. Sullivan. The town is showing its usual independence in disregarding party lines, and the local vote will prove that both sides have been active.

No Party in Winthrop.
In Winthrop the Civic League candidates are about to contest the town government. Association's nominee, regular party lines being abandoned. For the town clerk, James S. Carr and Roger H. Dawson, present incumbent, with C. F. Foster, represent the Civic League, while the Democratic nominee, William H. Hastings, is running on independent nomination papers. For town clerk, James S. Carr and Roger H. Dawson, present incumbent, with C. F. Foster, represent the Civic League, while the Democratic nominee, William H. Hastings, is running on independent nomination papers.

There are also candidates for the two places on the school committee. James M. Hastings, P. M. Hastings, Charles H. Hastings, and Albert E. Hastings, present incumbent, with C. F. Foster, represent the Civic League, while the Democratic nominee, William H. Hastings, is running on independent nomination papers.

Revere a Storm Centre.
Revere, always a storm centre of town politics, is having a remarkable contest for town governing body. For selectman at large Hugh M. McKay, the present incumbent, is opposed by E. T. Cunningham, and William H. Hastings, present incumbent. For selectman at large, William H. Hastings, present incumbent, is opposed by E. T. Cunningham, and William H. Hastings, present incumbent.

ROCKEFELLER CANNOT CONTROL JOY OF A GOOD HEART, SAYS GIBBONS

BALTIMORE, March 7.—Cardinal Gibbons in his monthly sermon at the Cathedral, said:

"You may have pleasure, health, wealth and all temporal goods, but you may be robbed of these. You cannot, however, be robbed of that joy of good heart that springs from your clear conscience."

CARNEGIE SAYS THRIFT HIGH PRICE CURE

"People, as a rule, spend too much money; they have too many luxuries which they normally become necessities," Andrew Carnegie, whose wealth is estimated at $100,000,000 and who says he intends to give away so much that he will die "poor," made this statement in Santa Barbara, Cal. When he was questioned as to his views on the high prices now asked for necessities he said:

"I am not preaching," he stated. "This is individual extravagance which makes prices so high and living so costly."

"That I will say that a Southerner could come to this country and not only live

"I will not express any views as to what people ought to sell, nor say what they should spend for this or for that. That

"I will not express any views as to what people ought to sell, nor say what they should spend for this or for that. That

When asked to say more on the recognition, he was told that he ought not to be modest in giving his views, because the whole world is interested in his opinions.

"This modesty of mine," he replied, "is a dreadful thing. I have been handicapped all my life by it. I have had to fight it to win my way, and I often calculate with sorrow on how successful I might have been if it had not been for my fearful modesty."
